

Keeping your car secure at the parking of Gold Coast airport

While most of the times airport car parks are safe, this doesn't mean that your car will not be targeted by thieves. As they know the car's owner will be away for a number of days to a few weeks, robbers will have time to break into vehicles that are staying in the airport parking area at the Gold Coast airport.

While there will be constant foot traffic from travellers either returning from their travels and going on holidays, robbers will often be very discrete when breaking into a car and passers-by will be occupied, tired and probably will think that the robber is the car owner. There is also nightly patrols and CCTV in place to monitor the activity at the airport parking area at Coolangatta, but sometimes robbers know how to avoid them in order to commit their crimes. This is why it is so important that you take precautions before embarking on your journey, so you minimise the risk of your car being broken into.

Here are some useful tips to keep in mind when leaving your car.

Double check that the doors are locked

While this may seem like a very straightforward tip, many times you have walked away from your car wondering if you actually remembered to lock the car. The chance of you forgetting to lock your car is greatly increased when you are stressed, have small children to take care of at the time of getting off the car and a lot on your mind when arriving at the airport.

Have no valuables in sight

Before you leave the car, ensure that anything of value is well out of sight. Even things such as bags and cases that are empty will attract robbers who may think that there are valuables inside. You should remove any valuable electronics such as GPS systems and portable music players.

Remember your keys

Keep your keys in a safe location to prevent anyone from pick pocketing them while in the airport. Always double check when you leave the car that you have your keys and parking ticket safely stored away.

Remember your location

There is nothing worse than having to wander around the massive car parks looking for your car as you have forgotten where you parked. Write down where you have parked and keep that piece of information in a safe place.
